

BlauStein devotes a lot of attention to charity as well as sponsorship projects, continuously demonstrating high level of social responsibility. One of the streams of our sponsorship activities is support of youth sport organizations and creative teams.

Today we are happy to announce the beginning of our cooperation with youth male hockey team, named "M.H.C. Barneveld".

BlauStein takes active part in promotion and development of sport among the younger generations, assists in maintenance of necessary conditions for the successful performance of youth sport academies, contributes to active involvement of kids into sport and provides equal possibilities for young sportsmen to do their beloved types of sport.

We are proud of our professional successes and highly appreciate the sporting achievements and successes of younger generations.
