

Dutch headquarters of BlauStein, an international network of Corporate Service Providers, proudly announces its certification for ISO 9001. The ISO 9001 is another milestone of the company in its commitment to professional, quality services for its clients.

These principles include strong customer focus, the process approach, motivation and implication of top management, and continual improvement and review.

The ISO 9001 quality management standard was developed and published by the International Organization for Standardization (ISO) and establishes an effective quality management program for companies. ISO 9001 is the internationally recognised standard for Quality Management Systems, which helps companies consistently meet the needs of clients and other key stakeholders in both the delivery and continuous improvement of products and services.

BlauStein's robust quality management system covers all processes of its business including organizational structure, compliance procedures, policies, and resources needed to achieve high levels of client satisfaction. BlauStein strives to consistently meet and exceed client expectations. The ISO 9001 certification is an important step in assuring that we will further implement and ensure strict adherence to all laws and regulations governing our business, and that our clients continue to receive satisfactory and quality services from BlauStein.
